CARPET-BAG RULE IN LOUISIANA. Commerce Decaying, Agriculture Abandoned, Bankruptey and Ruin

Ahead.

New Obleans, Aug. 19.—In response to a communication from citizens of Monroe as to the proper course to be pursued regarding Louisiana affairs, John McEnery writes a letter advising state Convention in December, and the property part of a committee to assemble. State Convention in December, and the appointment of a committee to appeal to Congress. After reviewing the Kellog, nsurpation, McEnery says: "The present condition of Louisiana demands for her rescue from certain ruin the adoption of one of two remedies, either the rescue of her government from the ignorance and corruption pervading almost every department, by the united action of the intelligent and honest people of the State, or an utter surrender of the state to the Federal Government, trustice that the Government may institute state to the Government may institute an honest home government that will stare the people the confiscation of their property now gradually going on, and consequent and inevitable bankruptey and ruin. To any one educated in the and run.
theory and genius of our Government, the latter alternation is hard, but any government promising a better future, however irregularly instituted, is preferahowever irregularly instituted, is preferable to one promising certain impoverish ment and general bankruptcy. When the people find themselves surrounded as we are by desperate and straightened circumstances—commerce decaying, agriculture demoralized, capital with mercurial wings in flight, real estate depressed and depreciated fifty per cent. since Kellogg's rule, and in fact all values on the decline—all this in a State o boundless resources, and simply and alone due to the fact of bad, dishonest, illegitimate government, possessing alone due to the fact of bad, dishonest, illegitimate government, possessing neither the confidence of the people at home or abroad, it is natural they will accept relief from any hand that extends it, and will not stop to inquire as to the regularity or irregularity of the authority exercised. But I hope fate is not so imperious that we shall be driven to accept so desperate a remedy. Let us hope better of those who hold our destiny in their hands. Let us appeal earnestly to Con-

hands. Let us appeal earnestly to Congress, trusting that that bonorable body, casting aside all political prejudice and party rule, will do simple justice to a much wronged and injured people." INTERESTING PIEMS.

Tax following from the Vicksburg Herald shows how much genius can be thrown into a murder report: "Despoiled of his wife and children, his home made desolate, he shouldered his rifle and sought out the destroyer of his happiness. A quick motion of the hand, a sharp report, and Edward Gaines was never more to mar the sancity of a happy home. He had gone, 'with all his sins broad blown as fresh as hell.' to his Waker. To-night William Robinson sleeps in the County Jail, and when the Circuit Court meets again he will be called upon to answer why he should violate the Divine commandment which late the Divine commandment which says Thou shalt not commit murder."

says "Thou shalt not commit murder."

The Jacksonville Times says: "Our Willamet exchanges have considerable to say about their extraordinarily large crops, and about certain fields yielding from forty to forty-five bushels per acre. Rogue River Valley beats that considerably, and we will quote, as an instance, the fact that twelve acres of grain belonging to Mrs. Aaron Chambers, who lives a few miles above town, yieled the large amount of over 600 bushels, or over fifty bushels to the acre. The wheat was of the club variety. This is not an extraordinary case, but has happened all over the valley."

RAIN AND FLOODON THE MORAYS.—The an Bernardino Guardian, of August 23, San Bernardino Guardian, of August 25, says: "From a private letter received from John Cantwall, of Camp Cady, we learn that the rain extended that far, and tearn that the rain extended that iar, and that it poured down for fifteen hours without intermission, casing a perfect deluge. At the Caves, a few miles below on the river, the flood swept everything out of the canyon—tearing up the road in such a manner as to make it perfectly impassable for teams. Such a rain at this season of the year has never been known to the oldest inhabitants. Such a rain at th

About two weeks ago two gents hired a team of Tim. Scriver, of Sacramento, to go on a canvassing tour. They followed the line of the railroad, "canvassing." until they reached Hot Springs, east of Reno, where they "soaked" the team for $75. In the meantime Seriver became alarmed and put the officers of became alarmed and put the officers on their track, who nabbed the gents, and they are now in custody at Winnemucca. State Journal.

Down in Pennsylvania they have Down in Pennsylvania they have a ghosts' convention every night. It is made up of the mangled spooks of those who have been killed on the railroads, and they break forth all torn and bleeding, and pen ghastly resolutions of censure on the railroads, and conduct themselves in a business-like manner generally till the case. ally till the cock crows, when they pe fully disperse.

The power of love is shown in the case of the Iowa girl, who went three miles from home to a pasture lot owned by her father, and there cut the throat of a calf, so that, when the old gentleman heard of the matter he might hasten thither, and thus give his daughter a courting spell with her lover, who has been warned not to appear on the premises.

"YES, take her and welcome," responded an Illinois farmer, when a young man asked for his blushing daughter. "She's run away with a schoolmaster, eloped with a showman, shot a wildoat, and whipped her mother, and the sconer you take her the better." Ax exchange says: "When you see a bareheaded man fellow a sow through the oareneaded man fellow a sow through the front gate, filling the air with garden im-plements and profanity, you may know that his cabbage plants have been set out."

A countray boy having come to Louis-ville for an education, being asked, "What is a 'strait'?" horrified his teacher by replying. "It beats two pair." He is

A WESTERN PAPER describes a man so sensitive to changes of temperature that he could not ride in a street car in company with a wet nums without danger of catching cold.

The Petalama (Cal.) Argus thus notices a remarkable quicksilver mine, recently discovered in Sonoma county; "The Rattlesmake mine is a deposit of native quicksilver in globules in the rock. Our informant saw one panful washed which yielded two pounds of quicksilver. It is rich beyond description. The location is owned by Snow, McKay & Sleeper, who during the past week were offered $100,000 for the mine—a good offer for a few months work. A flask marked for Healdsburg was noticed near the tent occupied by the owners, which they fill from quicksilver extracted by

PLAIN TALK. The political battle in Massachusetts is getting interesting. Butler has some very bitter enemies, and he also has many zealous supporters. The Charlestown Chronicle, a leading Republican paper, is enthusiastic in its advocacy of Butler. It don't like the idea of its favorité being mode the serverent et le paper, is enthusiastic in its advocacy of Butler. It don't like the idea of its favorite being made the scapegoat of the back-pay steal. Here is what it has to ay on that subject:

If any one man shall be stamped with the infamy of it (the salary-grab), stamp Grant then. It there is any one person responsible above all others for that measure, let those preachers of righteousness shout aloud and spare not, "Thou art the map, Mr. President." If some one must be thrown to the pack, let President Grant be chosen as the victim. It is right. He has carned the honor of the martyrdom. He got the chief benefit of the bill, he alone could have defeated it, and he, therefore, is its best representative. It was a Republican votes, and approved by a Republican President. The party, as such, is as much responsible for it as for any act that they claim the credit of passing since Lincoln was elected. Face the music, gentlemen! Only—if you are too cowardly to do so—don't imagine that you can swim Grant and sink Butler. They are in the same boat—and so is the Republican party.

THE manner in which the English and French papers "do up" American events is enough to lift one's hair sometimes. The Paris Figaro recently sketched the operations of a band of assassins in New Hampshire, which will astonish those denizens of that rural commonwealth who happen to read it. All their victims had the same mark, the severing of the carotid artery. Once the police came suddenly upon the band, but the members fled through the town at full speed, passing a photograph gallery in their dight. The photographer at once turned his lens upon them and had all their photographs turned on them in a twinking. The next morning they were recognized as residents of the town, and were all arrested. Another story told by this veracious Figaro was about an American millionaire who packed his father in a pork barrel in order to send him home as freight, and save the price of passage demanded for a corpse.
